who do we meet in the stories jesus told in the parables of jesus the galilean stories of a social prophet a selection of the parables of jesus is read using a social scientific approach the interest of the author is not the parables in their literary contexts but rather the parables as jesus told them in a first century jewish galilean sociopolitical religious and economic setting therefore this volume is part of the material turn in parable research and offers a reading of the parables that pays special attention to mediterranean anthropology by stressing key first century mediterranean values where applicable available papyri that may be relevant in understanding the parables of jesus from a fresh perspective are used to assemble solid ancient comparanda for the practices and social realities that the parables presuppose the picture of jesus that emerges from these readings is that of a social prophet the parables of jesus as symbols of social transformation envisioned a transformed and alternative world this world for jesus was the kingdom of god the people i write of flow out of my imagination but of none of them i would have said there was even a tenuous connection to a person living now or living then can that be true i myself cannot believe that for as i was telling their story i sensed a time reached when they would begin telling their own and though i wanted one person to say one thing he would say another and when i wanted another one to do this she would insist on doing that so where they came from i cannot with certainty say but they came alive in the writing why else would i cry with them laugh with them and fear with them but of one that cannot be truthfully said the galilean so called outside his country or perhaps master or rabbi as the case may be depending on who would be the caller he came to me from a deeper source beyond memory or imagination or experience a transcendent place whose location can only be felt as a presence his presence and even this conjured up out of an ocean of silence who and what is this presence it was a mystery then as it was ever a mystery and remains a mystery to this very day but it is not a mystery to be solved only to be known and in that knowing is its power he and they lived at the beginning of the first century although it could not have been known as such to them the place was in that benighted though holy land jewish palestine blessed by god but cursed by men which sat as a bridge between the rival empires of the east and west its fate was to be the trophy of the dominant military power of the day rome in that ancient time they were part of a people even more ancient again by more than twice those years jews they were called although that was not their first appellation it was a tiny populace in the scheme of the world and one born out of the slave pits of egypt but through the love guidance and promise of their god they were raised to a mighty nation and given the land on which they resided and from which they were fated to be cast out their god was just but demanding perhaps patient even more than that for over and over they remembered their covenant with him and were raised up and over and over they forgot it and were cast down despite it all their god kept them a people his people the lesson was clear but never learned not yet learned by any people it could be said when thrown into the mud and despair of the world they cry for deliverance and then when in the lap of comfort and pleasure they forget their deliverer so it was in this time of which we speak the nation was burdened by a double oppressor one home grown and of their own blood and the alien other even more cruel bred to conquest and brutality and both stood astride a people desperately searching for salvation but it was a search that took many forms in that troubled time wandering teachers and philosophers from all climes and cultures east and west mystery schools from greece and egypt with their gods of healing and magic and star gazing within this maelstrom however there remained always the core teaching of the jews the high moral and social law given to moses by their god and accepted in covenant by his people and now in the generation of which we speak after tens of suffering prior ones a new prophet arose whose first task was to uncover and reveal anew from this holy teaching the way to deliverance both personal and of the nation but dear reader i cannot tell you more of him than this only to commend to you the following pages in which to find him in them you will find the people who knew him best whose lives and fortunes were changed and elevated by his being and may their stories enliven in you as you read of them as they did in me as i wrote of them their still living souls whose purpose is to guide us tucker s ferda examines the theory of the galilean crisis the notion that the historical jesus himself had grappled with the failure of his mission to israel while this theory has been neglected since the 19th century due to research moving to consider the response of the early church to the rejection of the gospel ferda now provides fresh insight on jesus own potential crisis of faith ferda begins by reconstructing the origin of the crisis theory expanding upon histories of new testament research and considering the contributions made before hermann samuel reimarus he shows how the crisis theory was shaped by earlier and so called pre critical gospel interpretation and examines how despite the claims of modern scholarship the logic of the crisis theory is still a part of current debate finally ferda argues that while the crisis theory is a failed hypothesis its suggestions on early success and growing opposition in the ministry as well as its claim that jesus met and responded to disappointing cases of rejection should be revisited this book resurrects key historical aspects of the crisis theory for contemporary scholarship in his history of the jewish nation josephus wrote only of the death of jesus not mentioning one detail of his life in contrast the life of judas the galilean was chronicled from his temple cleansing to his grandson s suicide at masada yet josephus did not tell us how judas died is it possible that judas and jesus are the same person just a few of the similarities are listed below both judas and jesus cleansed the temple in jerusalem like jesus judas was anointed king or messiah by his followers in galilee the organizations of the teachers were identical the second in command to jesus was nicknamed cephas josephus called judas second sadduc barabbas was released in the trial of jesus during the reign of pilate judas was arrested by herod the great and later released to the jewish crowd jesus was interrogated by annas and later crucified because of his stand against roman taxation judas led the tax revolt against roman taxation in 6 ad annas became high priest in 7 ad amanda witmer presents an investigation of exorcism in the activities of the historical jesus particularly the connection between spirit possession and exorcism on the one hand and the socio political context of first century galilee on the other witmer draws on research from the areas of sociology anthropology archaeology and biblical studies to illuminate this aspect of jesus career as well as the broader social implications of spirit possession in those he treated and the exorcisms themselves evidence found in the strands underlying the synoptic gospels is evaluated using the criteria of authenticity and comparative analysis in order to establish early and historical material questions posed and answered concern the historical plausibility of jesus role as exorcist the possibility that his own career began with a period of spirit possession and the meaning that his exorcisms conveyed to his first century audience thus the methodology includes textual analysis sociological analysis of general cultural patterns within which first century palestine can be fitted and anthropological analysis of the plausible functions of both spirit possession and exorcism in agrarian societies
